Growing Agritourism!

A statewide conference will gather farmers, tourism professionals, and economic leaders for an exciting 2-day visit to Central Virginia. This informative meeting will inspire the family farm to not only continue their livelihood, but to expand through a multitude of agritourism projects. Featuring experts sharing practical information on planning and financing the business, land assessments and family commitments, marketing and public relations, insurance and property risks, and much more. The final result is that families will visit the farm, children will learn from the earth, and our agricultural land will be preserved.
